With F.M.L.

During a brief meeting of the Cameron Public Library Board Monday evening, talk turned to the number of books checked out in recent months.

Someone said it seemed readership went up with unemployment.

Someone else piped up: "Add to that beer consumption."

One can only conclude TV is so bad and the news is worse, the unemployed turn to beer and books in the winter.

111-111-111

Here's to those brave souls who are joining the mustacheoed "set" in the Cameron area.

Having worn one for these two years and more, we note popularity comes to those who grow upper-lip hair, "not to those who wait."

A mustache gives one character, particularly in the eyes of the unmustacheoed.

A mustache can mean swinger, diplomat, Texas Ranger, hippie, college student, whatever one wants to read into its growth. It really doesn't matter why the wearer has one.

It can mean the upper lip is cold on chilly mornings, the gap between nose and mouth is too wide, it takes too long to shave with soap and razor, it is impossible to get a decent shave above the lip with an electric razor, it looks good, it looks rugged (any or none of these), or

It can mean the wearer is too lazy to shave at all.

It can mean he enjoys the mystery, though mustaches are common enough these days, or the look of discontent on those with naked upperlips. It can mean nothing at all, except that's the style. And next year it will be pointed ears.

There is the Adolph Schicklegruber type, Fu Manchu type, "Gay Nineties type", Adolph Menjou type, the hip type, Errol Flynn type, the Joseph Stalin type, the pencil-line type, the Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., type.

Charlie Chaplin wore one, Charlie Chan wore one. Mustaches have been present through the years. Recently, however, American males have re-discovered them. And soon, many other people will be wearing them.

111-111-111

The right may even be demanded by woman's lib, setting the electrolysis industry back 25 years.

It is likely men wear them for women, whether or not they admit or even understand it. Women either think they are cute, handsome or disgusting. It is a certainty mustaches leave few ambivalent males or females standing by.

And that's the kind of popularity mustaches grow. They either stir hate or love.

Come to think of it, it is another way to get people and things "off dead center."

Rev. Foltyn Named Pastor For Lampasas

Rev. Emilian Foltyn, assistant pastor of St. Monica's Catholic Church in Cameron since July, 1969, has been appointed pastor of St. Mary's Church in Lampasas. He will assume his new post this week.

Rev. John Geiser, St. Monica pastor, said Rev. Foltyn will be succeeded by Rev. Peter McCabe as assistant pastor in Cameron. Rev. McCabe, a native of New York, has been assistant pastor at St. Joseph Church in Bellmead.

Rev. Foltyn will be entering a building program for the Lampasas Church. The St. Mary sanctuary and rectory were destroyed in a fire last year.

A reception at Simon George Hall Wednesday night honored Rev. Foltyn and Rev. McCabe.

GOLDEN TROPHIES for champions in the upcoming Milam County Junior Livestock Show are checked by Assistant County Agent Danny Phillips, left, and Yoe High School FFA Advisors C. Titsworth and Bobby Carter. The trophies will be awarded to hard working 4-H Club and FFA members, along with prize money and ribbons at Saturday's show.

Filing Fee Ruled Out...

Who'll Pay For Primaries?

A recent ruling that filing fees for candidates in primary elections were unconstitutional has left local political committees with no guidelines for financing primary elections.

C. R. (Roy) Law, chairman of the Milam County Democratic Party said that in the past primary elections have been paid for by assessing each candidate a percentage of the annual income for the office he was seeking. In Milam County the last assessment was 10 percent of the annual salary, however candidates received a refund when election costs were not as high as anticipated.

In the past, filing fees for local candidates have ranged from $50 to $1,800 The court ruling said the high fees kept able office seekers from announcing.

The ruling was met with mix emotions by local office holders. Some felt that without the fee assessment people who were not serious about holding an office would run in the primaries running campaign costs up for other candidates. Others applauded the federal court ruling.

Law said the state legislature would either have to bring in a set of rules for holding the elections or do away with the primaries.

"The tragedy of the ruling," Law said, "is that they (federal court) held it would be unconstitutional to assess an exorbitant fee, but did not say what is exorbitant."

One suggestion for paying the cost of primary elections was that they be paid for by the state. Law said he questioned that it would be constitutional to spend the Socialists tax money or the Republicans tax money to pay for a Democratic primary or vice versa

The current legislature must also face the problem of voter registration.

A federal court panel has put the legislature under a mandate to liberalize its voter registration law so people will not have to register every year and so they can register closer to the time of elections. The present January 31 deadline is considered too early.

A suggestion that voters be allowed to register up to 60 days before an election has been criticized by tax officers who must handle the registrations. They complain that it would not allow them time to prepare tax rolls for each precinct. The permanent registration also presents a problem of keeping tax rolls current in a time when people are more mobile than ever before.

Along with the voter registration reform, lawmakers are being asked to consider setting rules for a 'pure party primary'. This would require voters to list their party affiliation when registering and would bar a voter from voting in other primary elections.

125 Enter Jr. Stock Show

Judging Here Saturday For Best Animals

Young showmen from throughout the county will gather here Saturday for the 25th annual Milam County Junior Livestock Show, to be held in the old cotton compress building.

Danny Phillips, assistant county agent, said about 125 entries have been received for this year's show.

The contestants are members of Future Farmers of America Chapters and 4-H Clubs. They enter animals in four divisions -- beef, dairy, swine and sheep.

Judging will get underway at 10 a.m. with all livestock being in place by 9. Judges this year are Tom Woodward and John L. Deans, from the Animal Science Department of Texas A&M University.

The dairy animals, breeding sheep and fat lambs will be judged before lunch, with beef animals and hogs judged that afternoon.

Trophies and prize money will be awarded to the champion animals in each class. The best showmen in each division will also receive trophies.

Ribbons will be awarded to other winners.

The young contestants enter animals in seven classes: fat steer, breeding beef heifer, dairy female, breeding sheep, fat lambs, breeding swine, and fat barrow.

Ed Laywell is chairman of the livestock show directors, with Tommy Chamberlain, vice-chairman; Ben Hardie Bailey, secretary; and Dana Monroe, treasurer.

Reporters are George Weems of Rockdale, Erwin Fuessel of Thorndale, and Gene Smitherman of Cameron.

Supervising the show will be Henry Richter, swine division; Fuessel and Clifford Angell, beef division; and Laywell, lamb division.

Announcer for the events Saturday will be John Batte, long time supporter of the show.

One of the highlights of the afternoon will be a drawing for the butcher calf and hog to be given away. Proceeds from ticket sales on the prizes are used to finance the show.

Yoe Cagers Win 19AA Opener

The Yoemen Friday night travel to Elgin for the second district contest of the new year after humbling Georgetown's Eagles Tuesday night, 61-39, at Eagle Gym.

Robert Brashear hit 21 points as the Yoemen turned firepower on Georgetown in the second half, hitting 52 percent from the field, compared to only 21 percent in the first.

Georgetown's Joe Stovall hit 14 points.

A 22-17 halftime lead extended into a fourth-quarter run away when the Yoemen hit 25 points while the Eagles hit only 14.

The Yoe junior varsity won 44-32 as Jack Chubb scored 17 points while the Yoe Frosh lost, 48-40 to Eagle freshmen. Rock Thweatt hit 20 points.

The Georgetown win was the opener for both teams in 19AA play. Cameron is defending the 19AA title and bi-district title won in 1970 with a near-perfect string of wins during the second half of the 1969-70 season.

Cameron now has a 10-8 season record, about the same position held when last year's club began rolling up district wins.

Cameron will meet Elgin for the first time this season. Freshman competition begins at 5 p.m., junior varsity at 6:30 and varsity at 8 p.m.

It is the second of a 10-game district schedule which includes a rematch with Georgetown here January 29 and with Elgin here February 2.

Trustees OK Supt.'s Contract

Cameron school trustees unanimously approved a new three-year contract for Schools Supt. D. R. Dodson at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

School board president Hilliard Thomas appointed a committee to study school needs, and trustees accepted bids on selling one pickup and buying a new one.

Supt. Dodson's new contract will extend his appointment as head of the Cameron Independent School District from July 1, 1971 to July 1, 1974. He has been superintendent since 1965.

The new contract includes an increase in the superintendent's salary supplement from $3612 to $5000 a year.

Bill Hornung will head the school planning committee appointed by Thomas. Also serving on the committee are Coleman Duncum, Forrest Sapp, Calvin Cobb, Supt. Dodson, and Yoe Principal John Chubb.

The school's 1970 pickup was sold to William Kelm, highest of two bidders, for $2581.50. A bid of $3097.75 on a new 1971 pickup was accepted from Hefley-Stedman Motor Co.

In other action, the board authorized Supt. Dodson to purchase additional drinking fountains for Cameron Junior High School, and discussed replacing a retiring bus driver.

MERIT AWARD - Wayne Mann, right, District Conservationist at the Cameron Soil Conservation Service Work Unit, is presented a Certificate of Merit for an above average performance award for the 1970 fiscal year. The award was presented by Glen E. Black, area conservationist. The Certificate cited Mann's efforts in directing operations of the Cameron Work Unit "which resulted in the Unit schieving excellence in its accomplishments." (USDA Conservation Service photo)

Livestock Show Quality...

The quality and participation in Milam County Junior Livestock Show tell what has happened to agriculture between Central and West Texas.

Milam County's show is experience for young stockmen who take quality animals to the major Texas shows in San Antonio, Houston and Fort Worth.

This calibre of competition shows that grazing is a Central Texas industry, once considered a plains agri - business, and that cotton and other crop production is heavily West Texas irrigated production.

Cameron welcomes the excellent field of entries in the cattle, hog and sheep competition. Some of the finest stock in Central Texas will be on display this Saturday.

Evaluating Graduate Degrees...

A study of the 1,600 graduate degree programs has brought recommendation for reduction of this number to about 150.

Fragmentation of graduate degrees began after World War II when this country tooled up for a post-war boom that has recessed once in 1958 and slowed again in 1970.

During the past few years, the conglomerate of specialized degrees at master's and doctoral level has produced specialized people whose expertise constantly shifts with new technology.

Such an example is a master's degree given by Michigan State in trailer manufacturing. A good managment apprentice program in that industry could yield the same expertise in less time than needed for the degree.

Master's degrees in education and other fields for government service are additional credentials for a higher starting pay scale. Sometime, they are little more.

Eric Erickson, one of the nation's leading psychologists at Harvard, has only a high school diploma won in student days in Germany.

The Chancellor of the University of Denver was a reporter for the New York Times before taking his job as an educator.

Doctoral candidates in numerous fields themselves term their particular doctoral degree "a union card" for admission to academia.

This is not to diminish the tens of thousands of holders of Phds and hundreds of thousands of master's. It is that the time has come for a graduate degree to regain its merit and its value as academic or professional credentials.

So much technology leaped into graduate schools during the research decade of the '60s the basic graduate fields were diminished.

Reducing the number by 90 percent may be difficult, but advisable. Technicians specifically trained in expertise constantly changing can handle these problems while the higher degrees regain some basic value. Otherwise, super degrees are necessary.

62nd Legislature Faces 'Most Difficult Session'

By Vern Sanford

Legislators by the hundreds are assembling in Austin to tackle a mountain of inherited and new problems in a hastily - remodeled State Capitol.

Workmen barely completed their renovation of the new offices of Senators and Representatives before the occupants (for at least the next 140 days) moved in.

There is little indication, of course, where the 62nd Legislature is heading, but nearly everybody agrees it faces a major fiscal crisis. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes says the session may well be "the most difficult in Texas history."

Estimates of needed taxes range from $645 million to $850 million, and even higher in some cases. Barnes says he would be surprised if the sales tax rate and range were not both hiked.

James McGrew, head of Texas Research League and an outstanding tax authority, thinks that a state income tax may be necessary despite lawmakers' commitments to the contrary.

A welfare fund shortage may force a $55 million to $70 million tax bill early this year as an emergency measure.

Legislative and congressional redistricting, threatening an end to many political careers, may be necessary because of the new census. And this job could keep lawmakers overtime if the tax bill doesn't.

A federal court decision last week knocked out Texas' annual voter registration requirement and, as House Speaker Gus Mutscher commented, it "added urgency" to pressing election code reforms.

Liquor-by-the-drink legislation, environmental pollution, auto insurance, education, judicial reform, utilities legislation, and penal code revision are only a few of the issues which will be making headlines at the capitol during the next five months .....or more.

HOUSE CHANGES URGED

Speaker Mutscher applauded recommendations of his blue ribbon "Committee of 100" for House of Representatives reforms as offering national leadership in legislative modernization.

This committee concluded that lawmakers are underpaid (at $4,800 a year, plus $875 a month expense account for Representatives, $1,700 for Senators) and suggested the appointment of a six-member commission to set maximum salary levels.

Fearing for the safety of legislators in an era of demonstrations, the panel also suggested -- while questioning the practicality of its own recommendation -- the glassing in of the House galleries and use of metal detectors there to discover concealed weapons.

One of the Committee's top reform proposals called for a strict new code of ethics governing legislative conduct.

Other recommendations ranged over a wide field -- from publicity services for House members to a suggested new $3.75 million underground addition to the capitol and a long-range capitol area parking plan.

PARKS HEAD QUITS

In the middle of a boiling controversy over the proposal to buy Mustang Island park land, J. R. Singleton resigned his job as director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, effective March 5.

Singleton denied that Parks and Wildlife Commission Chairman Pearce Johnson is running him off. Harry Jersig of San Antonio and L. P. Gilvin of Amarillo, two of the three-man Commission, asked him to stay, said Singleton. Gilvin, however, is due to be replaced on the agency soon.

Employment with an "international conservation organization" lured him from the $25,000 a year state job, Singleton told newsmen.

He recommended that his deputy, Robert G. Mauermann, be named to replace him.

Johnson, who opposed the other two commissioners' plan to buy Mustang Island land for $4.2 million, had no comment.

Meanwhile, funds to buy the island -- state and federal -- reached the state treasury but were frozen there, pending a federal court case hearing.

COURTS SPEAK

A three-judge federal court in Houston knocked out Texas' annual registration for voting requirement but retained jurisdiction while awaiting the Legislature's response.

State Supreme Court declined a new hearing of its December decision where it held that a Denton land developer was entitled to $10,000 damages for libel because a newspaper erroneously stated he had filed bankruptcy proceedings.

Reversing lower courts, the Supreme Court concluded that a Houstonian who developed lung disease (silicosis) from breathing silica sand while on his job is entitled to workmen's compensation.

In another reversal, the High Court ruled that a construction worker from Houston and his widowed mother should draw workmen's compensation for a 1967 auto accident in which his father was killed.

AFL-CIO filed a district court suit here to set aside the State Board of Insurance order directing a 14 per cent increase in auto insurance rates.

AG OPINIONS

Six months' prohibition on remarriage after a divorce applies only to persons who secured divorces from Texas courts, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held.

In other opinions, Martin concluded that:

* Maximum conpensation for chief sheriff's deputy and first assistant county attorney is $9,226; for other sheriff's deputies and assistants, $8,073.

* In the absence of conferred authority from the President, state officers may not execute a federal search warrant under the Comprehensive Drug Abuse and Control Act.

* Counseling service for debtors requiring disbursements from a bank account constitutes forbidden "debt pooling."

* City of Pearland does not have authority to appoint auxiliary police.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

Try it. It doesn't make any difference what subject you're talking about, somewhere in the world it's a problem something ought to be done about.

For example, I was reading in a newspaper last night I salvaged from a Christmas package it was used in to keep some cups and saucers from breaking -- two of them came out all right except for a few chipped places -- that dogs are becoming an unmanageable problem in cities.

That's right. The dog population, the article said, is increasing faster than the human population, which most people claim is increasing too fast itself, and as a result city officials don't know what to do. You take a city with a million people and a million dogs, counting those roaming the streets, dogs, that is, although some people come under this category too, and you have got a problem.

But of course dogs and people are just part of the problem. There are too many cars, too many airplanes, too many wars, too many countries, too many diseases, in fact, if you'll survey the entire world you'll find that there's just one group that has had the sense to understand the problem and keep its head. It's farmers.

You don't find there're too many of us farmers.

Farmers saw the problem of endless multiplication and overcrowding years ago and began cutting back. Where cities tried to put two dogs where there was room for just one and three cars where there was barely room for one, farmers put one farmer where there used to be four.

From 50 per cent of the population we dropped to 8 per cent.

I don't know why cities haven't caught on to this solution.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

AFL-CIO VS FARMERS ON IMPORT QUOTAS

SEN. VANCE HARTKE (Ind.) ". . .The American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO) recently prepared a detailed letter on its position on the trade bill. . .I ask unanimous consent that the letter be inserted in the Record at this time." (Excerpts of the letter follow):

Dear Senator: The AFL-CIO and its 13-1/2 million members historically have been staunch supporters of freer trade. However, we have now come to the realization that the world has changed so dramatically that what is defended as "free trade," is to a great degree no longer free nor trade. Therefore, the AFL-CIO has concluded that a re-examination of our trade policies and legislation is desperately needed to preserve our productive capacity and to save the livelihoods and purchasing power of American's millions of working families.

The AFL-CIO Executive Council recently described the trade bill that has been agreed upon by the Senate Finance Committee as "a step forward toward the modernization of U. S. government policies affecting international trade and investment. . .

We support quotas on textile apparel and footwear. . .

We believe the bill is pro-worker. We believe it is not anti-consumer.

We believe there will not be a trade war nor retaliation.

As to charges. . .that the measure is anti-consumer, we find it hard to separate consumers from workers. Some 700,000 U. S. workers have lost jobs between 1966 and 1969 due to imports -- and that figure is rising sharply. Thus, as consumers, their purchasing power has been wiped out, their tax-payments have halted and many of them have been forced onto public-assistance -- all at an increased cost to other Americans. . .

About 20% of U. S. imports are (now) subject to quotas of some kind. There hasn't been retaliation. Foreign countries need our market, they need the goods they now import from us -- and they know that the great discretion in the bill they are not threatened. . .(Signed) Andrew J. Biemiller, Director, Department of Legislation.

SENATOR J. B. PEARSON (Kansas) ". . .This trade bill must be defeated. . .Retaliation to protectional quotas contained in the committee bill will strike first and hardest at some 10 million rural Americans -- the 5 percent of our population which produces food and fiber for all the rest of us. . .The Trade Act of 1970, as reported by the Committee on Finance, has some redeeming features. . .Yet this legislation falls far short of what is needed now. Many of the President's proposals on trade have been ignored. . ."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

It's the system of checks and balances that make the wheels go around in Congress. The procedure is often slow and aggravating, but it works.-J. C.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Love Thy Neighbor

In half a dozen places, the Bible tells us to "love thy neighbor." But it may be difficult to apply this general rule to the specific people who live next door. To what extent does the law insist on a "good neighbor policy?"

Under traditional legal rules, a home owner owed very little regard for his neighbor's sensibilities. He could do almost anything he pleased, so long as he did not actually intrude upon his neighbor's property.

In one early case, a home owner dug such a deep excavation near the boundary line that his neighbor's house had to be abandoned as unsafe. Yet, even though he had acted with malice aforethought, a court held him not liable for ruining the neighbor's house.

And in another case, a court refused to condemn an enormous "spite fence," carefully designed to shut out light and air from the people next door. The judge said "it would be intolerable to allow a man's neighbors to question his motives."

But in recent years, as people began living closer together, the attitude of the law has changed. Today the right to excavate is limited by considerations of safety and fair play. Almost everywhere, the spite fence is forbidden. As one court put it:

"No one ought to have the legal right to make a malicious use of his property for no benefit to himself, but merely to injure his fellow man."

Of course, moderate annoyances—even if unneighborly—are still legal. A home owner may still be reasonably noisy, even if the neighbors like it quiet. He may still paint his house a color that the neighbors consider frightful.

In one case, a man turned a deaf ear to a neighbor's complaint about his four large maple trees. It seems the trees kept the neighbor's house in almost constant shade.

But after a court hearing, the judge ruled that the neighbor had no legal grounds for complaint. This was the kind of "wrong," said the judge, for which the law provides no remedy.

Grain Sorghum Meeting Planned

By J. D. Moore

A county grain sorghum meeting is set for January 27, 1971, 7:30 p.m. in the District Courtroom, courthouse in Cameron.

Ben Spears, agronomist will bring us up to date on all phases of grain sorghum production.

Milam County's 1970 grain sorghum crop of 60,000 acres produced a good crop estimated at a value of $3,780,000. The value of the 1969 crop was $2,612,500.

Research information on better seed, most efficient use of fertilizer, chemical weed control and other cultural practices have enabled our farmers to make good progress in crop production.

The purpose of these county meetings enables our specialist to discuss new techniques and bring up-to-date research to local producers.

The fact sheet L-900, "Keys to Profitable Grain Sorghum Production", available at the county agents office should be in the hands of all farmers.

Dr. Rupert Palmer, chemical weed control specialist will discuss the use of chemicals as a part of the grain sorghum program. Those with any questions concerning the proper use of chemicals in any phase of weed and grass control should attend the meeting.

Milam County Farm Bureau will furnish refreshments for the meeting.

Plan To Improve Pastures

COLLEGE STATION

With rising land costs and favorable cattle prices, beef cattle producers should plan to improve pastures during 1971, says Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist.

Pasture improvement signifies many activities to different individuals, but can be explained as any method or combination of methods to improve the productivity and profitability of an acre of pasture.

Pasture improvement starts with a soil sample to determine fertilizer and nutrients needed to grow more forage. Then applying the nutrients when forage species start to grow is essential, says the agronomist.

Pasture improvement also includes weed control. Chemical weed control usually is the most economical and longer lasting, although mowing can be beneficial in removing matured grass which cattle have refused to graze.

Pasture improvement may also include establishing new species of grasses and legumes. Many high - producing species are available for us in Texas and should be used when establishing new pastures, says Pratt.

Performance of certain species is a specific county can be furnished by the county agricultural agent, he notes.

Using efficient, productive livestock is also essential in conjunction with pasture improvement.

When a landowner invests in better species, weed control, fertilization, and other aspects of pasture improvement, this investment should be utilized by efficient livestock for maximum profits.

Keeping accurate records of calving percentages, weaning weights, and calving dates are essential for making accurate management decisions.

Plan now to increase profits through pasture improvement during 1971, advises Pratt.

Room Reborn

When children are grown, a small bedroom can assume a new role by removal of one wall. If adjacent to the master suite, it becomes an adult lounge; next to living room, a conversation cove or library-den.

Americans spend a lower proportion of disposable family income on housing than do the people of any other nation, including India.

Record Production Reported On Crops

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says production of the crops of barley, broomcorn, upland cotton, corn, all hays, peanuts, potatoes, sorghum grain, sweet potatoes, alfalfa seed, sweetclover vetch seed and pecans were higher than in 1969.

Less production in 1970 was registered for American - Pima cotton, flaxseed, rice, rye, soybeans, sugarbeets and wheat.

Corn and sorghum grain crops set record yields and corn yields per acre for the first time were above those for sorghum grain.

ASCS

By Douglas Buck

The basic provisions for proven wheat yields are continued under the Agricultural Act of 1970.

Wheat producers may elect to establish yields for their farms based on actual production rather than use of yields established by the ASC County Committee on a judgement bases only. The base period for establishing 1971 farm yields is 1967, 1968, and 1969.

To prove a yield, a producer must have had a wheat allotment and harvested wheat acreage in each of these three years and be able to provide reliable proof of production on the harvested acres.

In order to assure consideration, producers may file written requests as soon as possible but no later than January 29, 1971. Production data timely received will be considered before notifying producers of their official 1971 farm wheat yields.

Permanent extension of peanut transfers was approved December 22, 1970, under Public Law 91-568. This Law extends the lease and sale of peanut allotments on a permanent basis under the same conditions as provided for in previous years.

Producers wishing to execute transfer agreements may call at the Milam County ASCS Office.

FARM NEWS

HOG NUMBERS UP

Texas hogs and pigs of all ages on farms on Dec. 1, 1970, totaled 1,419,000 head, up 49 percent from a year earlier, reports the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The June-Nov. 1970 pig crop was up 43 percent. Nationally, hog and pig numbers were up 19 percent and the June-Nov. 1970 pig crop was up by 18 percent.

CUT CORNERS

The major factors which influence the cost of producing a 220 pound market hog are fixed costs, feed efficiency, cost of grain and number of pigs marketed per year per sow, says Bill Thomas, Extension swine specialist. Good records and corner - cutting on production costs will help make the hog enterprise more profitable, he notes.

MENTAL HEALTH MATTERS

Bertram S. Brown, M. D., Director
National Institute of Mental Health

Studies of Infants

Peek-a-boo, the age-old technique of adults for winning the friendship of babies, is being used by the National Institute of Mental Health's Laboratory of Psychology to learn about the emerging minds of infants.

The studies will use a special apparatus with three major components: a head-turn sensing device, a chamber for delivering discrimination signals, and a chamber for delivering peek-a-boos. The peek-a-boo chamber contains four face masks which may be randomly presented to a baby for fixed intervals.

Infants aged two to four months will be taught to make a slight turn of the head to bring about the appearance of a peek-a-boo face above their cribs.

After mastering this, the babies will then learn to discriminate between different signals. They will be taught to turn their heads to the left in the presence of one discrimination signal—such as a red light or a circle—in order to obtain the pleasing peek-a-boos.

They will turn their heads to the right in the presence of a contrasting signal—a green light or a square—and obtain the reward of the peek-a-boos.

In this way, the researchers expect to be able to teach infants to discriminate between colors and between shapes which they may not yet have mastered in their natural environment.

Through this process, moreover, it may be possible to determine the best ways to train the child to discriminate among the significant properties, events, and relationships of his world.

The hope of the studies is to discover which early experiences are most important in the formation of subsequent intellectual capacities. When we know critical experiences in their proper sequence, parents and others responsible for the care of children may presumably be able to arrange early learning more systematically, more efficiently, and with less frustration.

Just as the average child must crawl before he can walk, there are equally true but less understood parallels in growth of the capacity for intelligence.

Environments from crib to college, whose learning processes are now spattered with irrational sequences, can be improved to make it possible to realize more fully the genetic intellectual potential of all children.

Through these and similar experiments in the Institute and in other laboratories across the country, there will be, for the first time, a definitive glimpse into the infant's perceptual and conceptual world. Such insights will perhaps some day give rise to a new educational technology that will promote fully the intellectual development of future generations of children.

Mental Hospital Population

One major measure of the problem of mental illness is the number of people residing in the Nation's mental hospitals.

By the same token, one main mark of progress for mental health is whether the number of people in mental hospitals is growing or being reduced.

A recent study of this shows that we can take heart; progress is indeed being made; and it is a continuing kind of progress.

For the fourteenth consecutive year the resident population in State and County mental hospitals in the United States has declined, according to a study by the National Institute of Mental Health's statistical branch.

There is a resident population in these hospitals of 366,815, preliminary data for last year indicate. This represents a drop of 31,034 patients—or about an 8 percent decline over the past year.

Another encouraging fact is that, in the past 5 years, this rate of decline has been continually accelerating.

Among the States, the rate of decline between 1968 and 1969 exceeded 10 percent in 13 States and ranged between 7 and 10 percent in 15 other States. Three States, in the 5-year period between 1965–69, reduced their mental hospital resident population by one-half and 20 States by 25 to 50 percent.

Despite this very real progress, the economic costs of the care of mental hospital patients is still one of the heaviest financial burdens upon our States and Counties.

Despite the cutting down of the numbers of patients, maintenance expenditures for the care of patients in State and County mental hospitals continued to increase in 1969. It reached to slightly more than $1.7 billion.

Yet, if we had not been reducing the hospitals' resident population, the costs of care would have been far, far greater. If the pre-1955 pattern of increasing resident patient population had continued uninterrupted, there would now be more than 746,000 patients in mental hospitals instead of 336,815.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Empire gown of white satin featuring long puffed sleeves. Lace and seed pearls accented the waist, cuffs, and neckline. The satin train was bordered in lace, and studded with seed pearls also.

Moore-Kelley Nuptials Solemnized At Temple

Miss Clydell Marie Moore and Mr. Frederick Glenn Kelley were married Saturday, January 2 at St. James United Methodist Church in Temple.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Moore of Temple. Mr. Kelley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Kelley Sr. of Cameron.

The Rev. E. C. Purnell of Waco read the double-ring vows and Mrs. Venita Ross provided nuptial music. Jimmy L. Flakes Jr. of San Antonio was soloist.

Wearing a formal gown of brocade satin, the bride was given in marriage by her father. A bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves highlighted the A-line silhouette. The semi-Empire bodice was adorned with a bow, and the chapel train fell from the neckline in double pleats.

Her illusion veil was held by a cluster of leaves and embellished with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Miss Linda Faye Moore, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and matron of honor was Mrs. James Campbell of Texas City, sister of the bride. Bridal attendants were Mrs. James Moore of Austin and Miss Linda Faye Shorter of Dallas. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Pamela Susan Moore and Simona Yvette Moore, sisters of the bride.

Arthur Kelley Jr. of Cameron served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Van Nelson Jr. of Cameron, James Moore of Austin, Ronnie Shanklin of Amarillo, Eddie Stephens of Cameron and Zachary Kelley.

Serving as candlelighters and ushers were Robert Farris of Dallas and James Campbell of Texas City.

Gayla Devonne Weaks of San Antonio was flower girl and the ring bearer was Sean Keith Moore of Austin.

Mrs. Brenda Pippin of Denton registered guests who attended the reception at Friendship House. Other house party members were Mrs. Gertrude Shelby, Mrs. Cecil Daniels Sr., Miss Glenda Kaye Shelby, Mrs. Connie Harrison Jr. and Miss Barbara Ann Moore.

Water Adds To Cost Of Food Items

"We're paying more and more at the supermarket just for the privilege of carrying home plain, ordinary water," reports Mrs. Doris Myers, Extension home management specialist.

Soup manufacturers have realized that consumers will pay a good price for water, so they're adding it at the plant, the specialist explains. By advertising an "honest, old-fashioned soup," they can get the public to pay two to three times the single serving price of condensed soups.

A recent survey taken in Washington, D.C. shows that soups with water added cost about 12.5 cents per serving, while condensed soups cost about 4.2 cents for the same serving.

There are other products in which we pay for water, Mrs. Myers adds. Some puddings and whipped toppings come ready-to-eat. Fruit drinks often containing only 6 percent actual fruit are made up mostly of water.

"Just think how much money we've spent on bottled drinks and the energy exerted lugging home all those bottles of water," she points out.

But convenience can't be ruled out. When we're in a hurry or unable to make the product ourselves, convenience foods come in handy. Products such as ready-to-eat puddings and toppings save cooking and cleaning equipment. And some take the guesswork out of cooking.

Soups and soft drinks, however, are another story. A can of soup still needs to be opened and the contents heated in a pan. Do you consider it much work to add water?

The next time you feel the cost of living tugging at your pocketbook, stop and think. Is it worth the extra cost to have someone else turn on the faucet?

Freezing Salaries 'Folly' Warns TSTA President

AUSTIN

National figures just released on average teacher salaries indicate the folly of freezing Texas teacher salaries, as suggested by some business groups, the president of the Texas State Teachers Association said today.

Mrs. Jewell Harris of Abilene, TSTA president, pointed to statistics published this week by the National Education Association.

The survey shows Texas teacher salaries have moved up from 39th place among the states last year to an estimated 29th place for the 1970-71 year. The Texas statistics are based on official reports from the Texas Education Agency.

"This indicates that teacher pay in Texas is gradually catching up with that in other states, but we still have a long way to go before reaching even the national average," Mrs. Harris said.

The Texas average for this year was pegged at $8,325, up from $7,277 in 1969-70. This year's figure still is $940 below the national average of $9,265 paid to teachers in all states.

Twenty-eight states are ahead of Texas in the amount they pay teachers, including neighboring Louisiana, which ranks 28th.

"This illustrates the utter folly of a well-publicized proposal to freeze teacher salaries at the present level," Mrs. Harris explained.

"The long-range compensation plan enacted by HB 240 of the 1969 Legislature was designed to move Texas teaching salaries up gradually, to avoid undue strain on state and local finances," she said.

"We had to take a pretty good step in the first two years as indicated by the move from 39th to 29th place, to get back in striking distance of other states," the teacher leader noted.

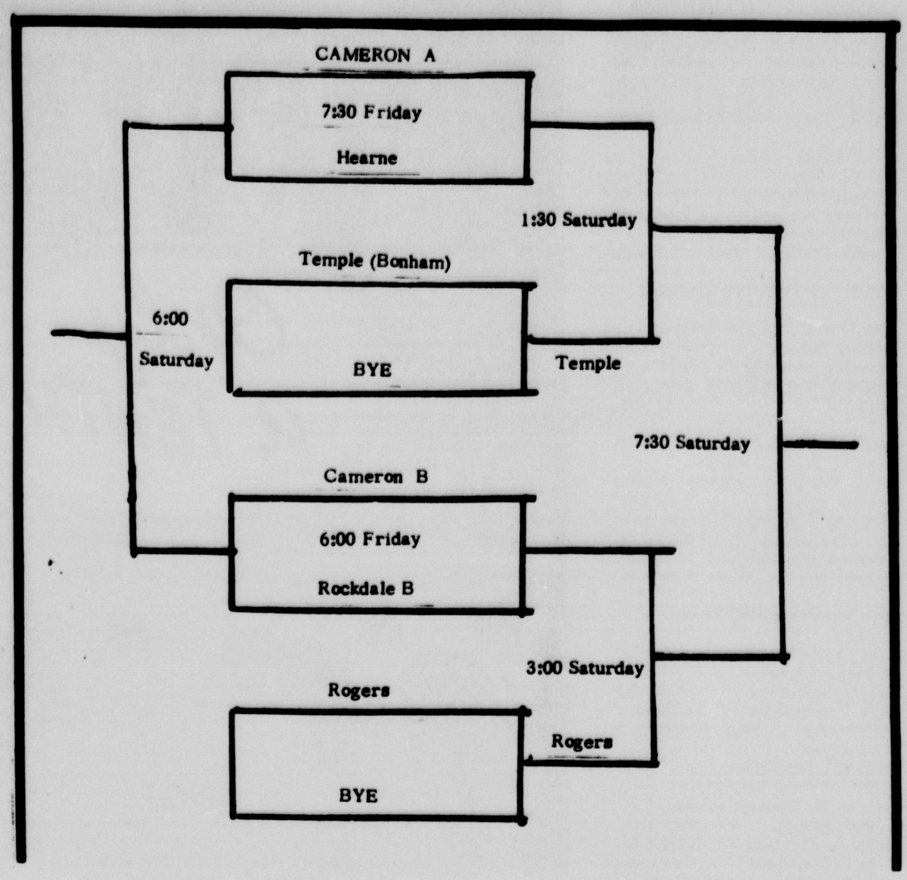

"But now the long-range plan is about to go into operation next year, to help us gain more ground," she added.

"It would be tragic to throw out all of the forward-looking actions of the 61st Legislature before we even begin the long-range plan," Mrs. Harris said.

"Most Texans think Texas deserves to be No. 1 in paying the teachers of their children," she declared. "I cannot believe that Texans are willing to pay teachers less than the average of all the states."

The TSTA president pointed out that the percentage of teacher education graduates from Texas colleges and universities -- most of them state-supported schools -- who go into teaching has been dropping sharply in recent years.

"It is false economy," she said, "to expend state funds in colleges to train teachers and then turn them over to other states just because Texas doesn't pay public school teachers enough."

End-Jointed Lumber Goes in FHA Homes

End-jointed lumber for framing use is expected to become more commonplace now that the Federal Housing Administration has given it broad acceptance for homes.

Made by finger-jointing and gluing short pieces into long ones, the product permits better use of the log, as defects can be removed.

The spliced lumber tests out as fully equivalent in strength and appearance to non-jointed items in the same grade, states the largest lumber quality control agency, Western Wood Products Assn., Portland, Or.

REPORT ON HEALTH:

Common Cold Accounts for Most of School Absences

New York—(HK)—The common cold is every bit as common as most people assume. Recent statistics gathered by the Council On Family Health show that a person with average health can normally expect to suffer three or four colds a year.

The Council, sponsored by the manufacturers of medicines as a public service, says the cold is so common, in fact, that it accounts for more than one-third of all days lost from work and two-thirds of all school absences attributed to sickness.

Despite years of extensive research by medical scientists, no real cure has yet been found for the common cold, a disorder of the upper respiratory tract. The most effective way to treat it is with common sense, according to the Council.

These are the common sense suggestions of the Council:

—Treat a cold at its onset to prevent it from becoming more serious or turning into something else. Get plenty of rest and sleep, drink fluids and take medication for the relief of sniffles, sore throat or other minor symptoms.

—Colds are more contagious in their early stages. Try to avoid contact with people developing cold symptoms. If you have a cold, respect others by covering coughs and sneezes and avoiding the use of a drinking glass, towel or other items you might share in common with others.

—When you take medication for your cold remember to use your medicines properly. The label on the medicine bottle or container will tell you how much medication to take and how often to take it. Follow these instructions exactly to avoid any chance of accident.

Keep Medicines Out of Sight

—Children suffer more colds than adults. When treating children, never leave medicines on a night table or dresser top. A child with a cold is as likely as a healthy child to discover a bottle of medicine and consume its contents in the belief that the medicine is candy. Keep all medicines out of the sight and reach of children and never tell them that medicines are candy.

—A cold lowers the body's normal defense mechanisms and can make a person vulnerable to other more serious ailments, if not treated properly. If your cold seems to last a long time or your symptoms get progressively more serious, see your doctor.

The common cold is a common illness in our society but it should never be taken for granted, warns the Council.

If past trends continue, nearly half of the national population will be living in the suburban parts of our metropolitan areas in 1985; only one-fourth will be living in central cities, according to Dr. George H. Brown, Director of the Bureau of the Census.

"What shall I render unto the Lord for all His benefits?" (Psalms 116:12) Every man of earnest and serious mind must ask himself this question as he meditates on the goodness and the Grace of God toward him. We want to do what is right in our every association with God and man. The Government takes as its proper share at least twenty per cent of every man's income. WHAT IF GOD SHOULD REACH DOWN INTO YOUR LIFE AND MINE AND TAKE WHAT REALLY BELONGS TO HIM? How much would be left for us? Have you raised corn? Or did you and God work together in making the corn crop? And just which of you put more time and energy into the process? Have you "struck" oil? Who spent centuries creating the oil and holding it in the underground lake until you came along? Is the oil really all yours? What is God's share? YOU AND GOD ARE PARTNERS IN THE OIL BUSINESS. WHAT IS HIS PORTION?

Jesus Christ is our revelation of the generosity of God who has been the eternal Giver, enriching us with every sort of good thing. From the day of the first creation God has been at work with and for man. Each of us represents in his body and in his soul the everlasting toil of God, who truly wants to make us His children and who desires us to join Him in making an ever better world for His sons and daughters to live in. JESUS IS OUR PATTERN OF WHAT A MAN CAN GIVE TO HELP IN THE PURPOSE OF GOD. HOW MUCH DID JESUS GIVE BACK TO GOD?

Jewish and Christian people have agreed that we ought to give at least a tenth of our income to God and His Church for the carrying on of His redemptive program. A tenth will not necessarily discharge all our debt, but it will show a sense of deep gratitude. Everything is His, even the cattle of a thousand hills and the abundant harvest from the fields. He gives us everything which makes life abundant. Our ideal is to join in the prayer, "Take my life and let it be consecrated, Lord to Thee." Let's be good partners with God. Let us be His co-workers. MAY WE GLADLY GIVE BACK TO HIM AT LEAST A TENTH OF WHAT HE SO FREELY GIVES US."

IRS Questions

Q - The IRS says it will figure the tax for more people this year. Who can take advantage of the offer?

A - Up to 30 million taxpayers may have IRS compute their tax. To qualify, income should be less than $20,000 and consist only of wages or salaries, tips, dividends, interest, pensions or annuities. The taxpayer must also take the standard deduction.

Previously, IRS could only compute the tax for those with less than $5,000 of income, primarily from salaries and wages. These limits disqualified many low and middle income taxpayers as well as retirees living on pensions or annuities.

This computation is not done in local offices. If you want IRS to compute your tax, just follow the instructions for entries on the return and mail it, with attachments, to the IRS Service Center for your area.

Besides computing the tax, the IRS will also compute retirement income credit for those entitled to it. This computation has proven confusing to many taxpayers in the past.

Q - When can I expect to get my W-2?

A - Employers are required to issue W-2 statements on 1970 wages paid and taxes withheld to their present employees by the end of January. Since this falls on a Sunday, the deadline for employers to issue these statements is February 1.

Anyone who left a job before the end of the year should have received a W-2 within 30 days after his last pay check.

Q - Where can I get information on the changes that will affect my 1970 return?

A - A summary of the major changes in the law are listed on the cover of the 1040 income tax packages most taxpayers will receive in the mail. Information on how to handle these changes are explained in the instructions.

Additional information on the tax law changes as well as other aspects of tax law may be found in "Your Federal Income Tax." This publication may be obtained from all IRS offices for 75¢.

Q - My husband is over in Vietnam in the army. What should I do about our tax return?

A - You are not required to file a return until 180 days after he leaves Vietnam. If you want to file earlier because you are expecting a refund, indicate in the space where his signature should go that he is serving in a combat zone.

Q - Does the income tax surcharge apply to all money earned in 1970?

A - Yes. The income tax surcharge rate for 1970 is 2 1/2 percent.

Q - My teenage son earned enough money in 1970 to owe tax. Does that mean I will lose my exemption for him?

A - Not necessarily. As long as your son is a full-time student at least five months of the year or was under 19 at year end, the amount of his earnings will not affect his dependency status. However, the other dependency tests, support for instance, must be met.

Q - What tax rate should I use when I report my maid's wages for the fourth quarter?

A - The combined rate is 9.6 percent, 4.8 percent each for employer and employee, and should be used when filing your Form 942, "Quarterly Report on Household Employees," for the months of October, November and December. The deadline for filing and paying the tax is Februrary 1, 1971.

Note that the rate goes up effective January 1, 1971 from 4.8 percent to 5.2 for both employers and employees.

Q - I have income from a farm I own as well as from a part-time job. Do I come under the filing provisions for farmers?

A - You do if at least two-thirds of your gross income is from your farm operations. If that is the case and you do not file a declaration of estimated income tax by January 15, you should file your tax return and pay the entire tax due by March 1 to avoid a penalty.

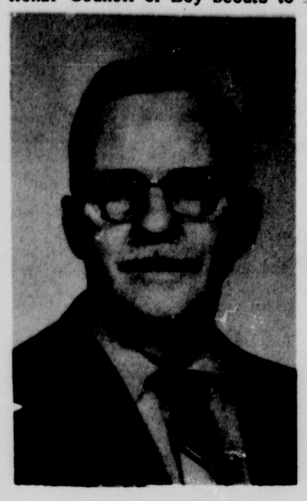

Other taxpayers not qualifying as farmers, ranchers or fishermen have until February 1 to file their final returns and pay the tax due, in place of paying the last quarterly estimated tax installment or filing and paying an estimated tax declaration due January 15.

Taxpayers who do not have to file declarations, such as those whose withholding equals or exceeds their tax due, have until April 15 to file their returns.

Bill Summers Receives Silver Beaver Award

Willis Burton (Bill) Summers of Rockdale has received one of the four Silver Beaver Awards for 1970 from the Heart O' Texas Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The Award is given by the National Council of Boy Scouts to men who have given "outstanding service to youth over an extended period of time." the Local council makes a limited number of recommendations each year according to its registered membership.

BILL SUMMERS

Summers has been a Scoutmaster for 18 years and served as a leader for the 1964 National Boy Scout Jamboree. At times his troop has as many as 65 boys.

A holder of the Scouters Key, Summers was a mail carrier until 1969, when his health made him give up his route, but not his Scouting work.

Summers has been a Mason for 20 years and is an active member of the First Christian Church. His son achieved the rank of Star Scout, and his daughter is active in Girl Scouting.

Other recipients of the Silver Beaver Award from the Milam area include:

Byron T. Stubbs 1934, H. D. Maxwell 1948, H. H. Coffield 1949, Very Rev. Geo. J. Duda 1956, Felix A. Matula Jr. 1965, and Homer A. Bower 1969.

Lions Hear Report On MOD Work

Ernest Owens, field representative for the March of Dimes National Foundation, told Cameron Noon Lions that the Foundation was directing most of its efforts to birth defects.

Owens was introduced by Delbert Burlison, program chairman.

"The March of Dimes Foundation is still strong in supporting the Salk Institute," Owens said, "but turning its attention more to birth defects." He listed research, patient services, professional health education and public health education as the programs now being used to reduce the number of birth defects and to help those who are crippled by birth defects.

Owens said birth defects are the nation's second greatest destroyer of life, claiming approximately 500,000 unborn babies and 62,000 children and adults each year. An estimated 15 million Americans of all ages have one or more birth defects which affect their daily lives, Owens said.

Judge Bill Black Named To 146th District Post

Bell County Judge William C. Black has been appointed new judge of the 146th Judicial District Court, replacing retired Judge W. A. Messer.

JUDGE BLACK

Judge Black and his wife, the former Doris Floca, and their children live in Temple.

Black, son of Milam County Sheriff Carl Black, was appointed county judge in 1965, and resigned in November, 1967 to become chief counsel to the U. S. House Agriculture Committee under Rep. W. R. Poage in Washington.

He returned to Bell County as county judge in October last year. Black is a 1954 graduate of the Baylor School of Law and practiced law in Cameron and Temple before becoming county judge.

Black was just elected president of the Central Texas Council of Governments and is a member of the State Bar of Texas' committee on judicial reforms.

While county judge he was instrumental in the survey which led to the establishment of the Bell County Mental Health and Mental Retardation Center, and has been active in the Central Texas Economic Development District.

The 146th District Court has been Bell County's domestic relations and civil court. Judge Messer, the only judge to serve the 146th District Court, retired effective midnight, Dec. 31 after 10 years in that position.

The selection of Black, by Gov. Preston Smith, became official Monday.

Highway Employees Put On 40-hr Week Effective March 1

AUSTIN

The Texas Highway Commission today reduced the normal work week of hourly-paid maintenance employees of the Texas Highway Department from 45 to 40 hours a week.

The change is effective March 1.

The action was taken to bring the work week of hourly-paid maintenance employees into line with those of salaried employees of the Department who have been on a regular 40-hour work week for several years.

The Commission has had under study for a considerable time a proposal to place all employees on a uniform work week without a reduction in gross pay. The action today implements this proposal.

TOMMY SPEARS

VIETNAM

Army Spec. 4 Tommy L. Spears 24, whose wife, Elizabeth lives in Cameron, recently was assigned to the 173rd Airborne Brigade in Vietnam. Spears entered the Army in 1964 and was last stationed at Ft. Hood.

Wide-Open Living

If you long for the informal way of life offered by an open house plan, write for an eight-page color illustrated idea booklet, enclosing 15 cents in coin, to Western Wood Products Assn., Dept. 533-P, Yeon Bldg., Portland, Or. 97204.

Adding a dormer window to a large second-floor closet can add a useful new room.

VA Education Benefits Told For POW Families

President Nixon has signed into law new education benefits for wives and children of prisoners of war, and for servicemen who have served 181 days of active duty rather than two years as was previously required.

The new benefits became effective December 24, 1970, according to Jack Coker, Director of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco.

The reduction in the active duty requirement to 181 days also applies to the eligibility of servicemen for GI loan guarantee benefits, Coker said.

This broadened eligibility makes it possible for men and women to use their GI Bill benefits sooner while still in military service, Coker explained.

Under the new law, the wives and children of those members of the Armed Forces on active duty who have been listed for more than 90 days as missing in action, captured, "or forcibly detained or interned in the line of duty by a foreign government or power," are eligible for educational benefits.

For apprenticeship and on-the-job-training courses under the GI Bill, servicemen are required to take 120 hours of training per month to receive full training allowance, and a lesser number of hours result in a proportionate reduction in the allowance.

Full-time training, Coker explained, contemplates a work week of at least 30 hours unless collective bargaining has established a lesser standard for a work week.

Architects in one survey favored rough-textured siding over smooth by 70 percent.

Buckholts News

By Mrs. Edwin Gandy

Buckholts and the surrounding communities were shocked and grieved last Thursday and Friday over the deaths of Mrs. E. E. McCormick and daughter Jane and Mr. Frank Jurca. There was a large group from Buckholts to attend each funeral on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Williams and family of San Antonio were here to attend the funeral of his uncle, Mr. Jurca. While here for the funeral they spent Friday night with his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Burtis.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Svetlik Sr. over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. U. D. Adams and sons of Austin, Mrs. Doris Brown from Grandbay, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Admiral and children from Azele, Texas.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. Paul Sakewitz and Leslie on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Auther Cross and Dina of Belton and Mrs. Pauline Freimel and daughter from Cameron.

Mrs. Johnny Fuchs attended the funeral of her uncle Mr. A. W. Geistmann in Abilene on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Warren and children of Houston spent the weekend in the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lock.

We were sorry to hear about Mrs. C. R. Criswell's sister, Mrs. Myrtle Mitcham being ill and in Scott & White Hospital. Mrs. Criswell also received word Sunday afternoon that her niece Mrs. Raymond Saaga of Rosenburg entered St. Johns Hospital on Sunday.

Low-Cost Homes

"Designs for Low-Cost Wood Homes," prepared by the U. S. Forest Service, is available for 25 cents from the Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. 20402. Working plans for any home selected may be obtained for $1.75 or less.

Built-Ins Aid Family Area

Storage often is neglected entirely in family room planning.

Yet this room, aside from the kitchen, draws to it more gadgetry and miscellany than any other.

A family entertainment center can be built into one area, with cabinets enclosing tape decks, stereo and television. Shelves of 1x12-inch western lumber hold records; 1x8 or 1x10-inch boards may be used for tape and book shelves.

A built-in desk, with drawers for files and household bills and records, also doubles as a serving area for informal parties.

Ceiling to floor shelves may be added for storing games, crafts, and hobby equipment, and may be hidden behind bi-fold louvered doors available at lumber dealers.

Western lumber paneling, such as hemlock, larch, pine or fir, "warms" a family room and makes a handsome backdrop for displaying art projects or family photographs.

Cluster housing is gaining ground over waffle-grid developments. Grouping individually-owned homes in clusters leaves them surrounded by a large, park-like area for all, and little private yard work for any.

The least expensive new room is one added within existing walls.

All of said owners, claimants, and other interested parties, their agents or attorneys, are hereby referred for further information to the proceedings with reference to said improvements on file and/or of record with the City Secretary of the City of Cameron, Texas, and particularly to the estimate of the City's Engineer, and to the proposed assessment roll wherein the exact amount proposed to be assessed against each abutting property and the owner thereof is set forth; said City's Engineer's estimate and said proposed assessment roll being on file in the office of the City Secretary.

III.

The streets and avenues or portions thereof to be improved within the limits designated by the City Council are listed below as they have been divided by said City Council into separate and distinct improvement units.
